

NCast Corporation Announces Distribution Agreement with VSIG

Company to leverage the strength and industry experience of veteran team

Sunnyvale, CA- June 23, 2006 – NCast® Corporation, the founder of telepresentation technology, today announced that it signed a distribution agreement with Visual Systems Integration Group, Inc. (VSIG) of Woodbridge, VA to distribute its Telepresenter line of Presentation Capture and Distribution appliances to high-end resellers in the Eastern US.

Says VSIG's Gena Albeitawi "NCast's commitment to providing solid UXGA Capture and MPEG4 streaming products combined with our 7 year history of offering integrators cutting-edge products and services are sure to be a winning combination. Together we will help simplify the adoption of IP and streaming technologies into our AV partners' business plans." VSIG will combine their reputation for a high quality of service and pre and post sale support with the NCast UXGA presentation capture technology to provide resellers with the product, education and support so that integrators can successfully provide Web streaming solutions to their clients. "NCast looks forward to working with the principals of VSIG who have many years of demonstrated experience in the AV Industry and exceptional technical and marketing strength.", says Dr. Hank Magnuski, CEO of NCast Corporation.
